Zach Brooks

Co. 49, 13th BN 165th Depot Brigade

Born At Chatfield

Died at Camp Travis San Antonio, Texas

Zack Brooks, Private, U.S. Army First World War

26 October 1894 – 10 August 1918 Requiescat in Pace

†††

Musical Prelude by The Drum and Bugle Corps of the Heritage Brass Band

Pledges to the United States & Texas Flags
To the Colour	.Band
Invocation	. Rev. Robert Lee, Pastor Chatfield Baptist Church
Welcome	. Rob Jones Hodge-Martin-Chatfield Museum
Scripture Lesson	. Deacons, Chatfield Baptist Church
Life of Zack Brooks	. Rob Jones
"Amazing Grace"	. All With Band
Speaker	. Dr. Lila Rokoczy, Military Sites Director, Texas Historical Comm.
Laying of the Wreath
"American Legion Medley"	. Band and Director, Larry Johnson
"Tatoo" "Taps"	.Band
Closing Prayers	. Rev. Glen Blackmon, Pastor, Chatfield United Methodist Church

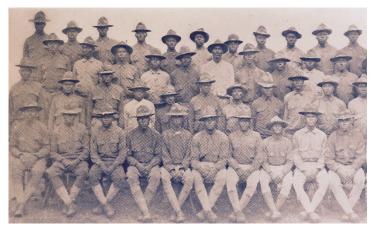

Pledge to the United States Flag

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands: one Nation under God, indivisible, With Liberty and Justice for all.

†††

Pledge to the Texas Flag

Honor the Texas flag; I pledge allegiance to thee, Texas, one state under God, one and indivisible. †††

Jack Brooks is one of five young men from Chatfield and the surrounding area to die in World War I. He is the only African American from Chatfield who paid the supreme price. No photograph of Brooks is known to exist, but above is a group photo of African American soldiers in the same brigade in which Brooks served at Camp Travis, the 165th Depot Brigade.

Camp Travis, San Antonio, October, 1917

Named for Alamo Commander William Barret Travis, it was one of 16 training camps for the National Army that the United States created in order to provide the millions of men necessary to fight the First World War on a par with the European armies. It maintained an average of 34,000 men while Zack Brooks was there at the 5,730 acres comprising the main facility. A Hospital Ward is pictured below

†††

This Memorial Observance to mark the 100th Anniversary of Pvt. Brooks' death was made possible by the Hodge-Martin-Chatfield Museum, the Chatfield Baptist Church, and a number of generous individuals and groups. Special Thanks are extended to the Heritage Brass Band and Director Larry Johnson.